DETROIT THE NEXT PLACE OF MEETING

Postmasters Re-elect and Install Officers.

PLEASED WITH THE CAPITAL

National Association Members Delighted With Reception at Hands of the Department.

The National Association of Postmasters of the second and third class, now in session in this city reconvened at 10 o'clock this morning.

The most important part of the morning session was placing in nomination the names of the candidates for offices for the incoming year, and the selection of the place for the next convention.

Invitations were received from cities in New York State, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Michigan, Virginia, Texas, Indian Territory, and Indiana, through the earnest solicitation of H. A. Hopkins; secretary of the organization Detroit, Mich., was chosen as the place for the meeting of the next, or third, annual convention, which will be held in Each of the present officers of the association was renominated for election without opposition, as the members were thoroughly in accord with the administration of the association's affairs and prevailed upon the incum-bents to serve for another year.

Views of Mr. Lawsen.

The Times that he was voicing the un-biased opinion of every member of the association when he declared that they were more than pleased with the cordial recention that had been accorded them by the officials of the department and by the Chief Executive of the United States.

The organization was reluctant, so he said, as to what view the Postmaster General would take of the national body, but from the remarks Postmaster General Cortelyou made yesterday he was sure the organization would now go to work to enroll upon its roster the name of every second and third class postmaster in the United States.

"The object of the National Association of Postmasters of the second and third class," so Mr. Lawson stated, "was to aid in the improvement of the postal service, through the mutual interchange of ideas of members and the officials of the Postoffice Department and that is what we are here for."

The officers elected are as follows: The officers elected are as follows:
Richard F. Lawson, Effingham, Ill.,
president; William C. Noble, South McAlester, I. T., vice president; H. A. Hopkins, St. Clair, Mich., secretary-treasurer. In addition the forty-five vice presidents from the different States and Territories of the Union were re-elected.
A majority of the members will remain in the city over Sunday to enable them to go sightseeing.

O'BRIEN'S MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL IS OVERRULED

Justice Wright today overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of John Lawrence O'Brieu, convicted of embezzlement, and sentenced him to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Through his counsel, D. W. Baker, he gave notice of an appeal from the judgement of the court to the Court of Appeals for the District. Pending the result of his appeal his ball was fixed at $1,000.

O'Brien was formerly employed as a alesman by Frank Hume, a local tholesale grocer

PRESBYTERIANS GET ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE

"Bob" Wynne, consul general to London, had a nervous half hour of it yesterday when he visited the State Department and some official there told him that he needn't look forward to an annual leave this year, as the time consumed in his coming to Washington to testify in the Postoffice cases was to be docked from his vacation.

Great applause greeted the receipt by the Presbyterian general assembly at Winona Lake, Ind., last night, a message from President Roosevelt, expressing the hope that the day would come, in the near future, when all branches of the Presbyterian Church would be united in one great body. The message was delivered to the delegates by Com-RECEIVE DIPLOMAS be docked from his vacation.

This announcement caused a look of pain to gather on the usually jolly countries the delegates by Commissioner Macfarland.

It is believed that this expression from tenance of the former Postmaster Gen-the President will materially assist Juseral. It lingered there for some moments until the agitated Mr. Wynne the project of erecting in Washington at the proj ments until the agitated MR. Wylne had sought out still another official of the State Department and then the cloud was dispelled.

"Why certainly not," said this learned official, "we cannot rob you of your vacation because you happen to be summoned by the court to testify for the Government. You still have the regular in his work in Commissioner Macfarlance accounts to you."

board. In this connection, Rev. B. F. Bittinger, clerk of the Washington city presbytery, said this morning: "The matter has never been brought to the attention of the presbytery of "Death Lake" is doomed. A contract has been signed by the Washington Hydraulic Press Brick Company, owners of the land on which the steam of the land of t may be the action of the presbytery at its meeting June 5. Whether the matter will come up for consideration at that meeting or whether the presbytery will wait for the communication from the communication of the general assembly I cannot say.

"As the matter stands there is a difference of opinion entertained by the members of the presbytery of Washington city, both as to the wisdom of the plan and its practicability. Some entertain the project favorably while others are in doubt as to the expediency. For myself I will wait the eturn of our commissioners from the general assembly, and after hearing them will form my judgment."
